Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 30 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly cloudy in east, clear or sunny spells in west.

This Evening and Tonight:
Some evening sunshine, especially in western parts. Mist and low cloud with the odd spot of drizzle returning inland across eastern areas overnight. Some clear spells persisting in the west. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Thursday:
Dull and cloudy in eastern areas for much of the day, with some drizzle at times especially in coastal areas. A bit brighter in western parts with sunny spells possible. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Staying mostly dry on Friday with sunny spells. Fresher and cloudier towards the coast. More cloud on Saturday with afternoon showers, perhaps heavy and thundery. Widespread thundery showers on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.